

NEVAC SYMPOSIUM 2021

ADVANCED RESEARCH CENTER FOR NANOLITHOGRAPHY

Tuesday, 18 May 2021 | Online

It gives us great pride to announce that this year, ARCNL will organize the NEVAC Symposium on May 18, 2021 fully online.

Please, check out arcnl.nl/nevac and nevac.nl for this year's program and for your registration for attending the NEVAC Symposium 2021. We hope to welcome all of you for that great day. In addition to a number of exciting lectures, we offer an online tour of ARCNL and two sessions with so-called bullet presentations, as an alternative for the traditional poster session.

Bullet presentations are compact, 3-minute presentations, without questions and answers. You can submit your title and abstract by filling out that information on the registration form. The deadline for these special presentations is Friday, 23 April. We will get in touch with you soon after that to let you know whether your contribution was selected, after which we will provide you with instructions for the pre-recording of these mini-presentations.

This year's organizers:

Prof. Joost Frenken, Dr. Jan Verhoeven, Dr. Roland Bliem

This year, the Symposium will not be combined with the annual General Assembly of the Members of the NEVAC Society. This meeting will take place online Wednesday 12 May, 19.30 hr. For more information check out nevac.nl

Participation in this year's NEVAC Symposium is free of charge, even if you're not a NEVAC member yet. In order to get a ZOOM link to our meeting, you first have to register at arcnl.nl/nevac

